CAREER PRESENTERS In The Classroom

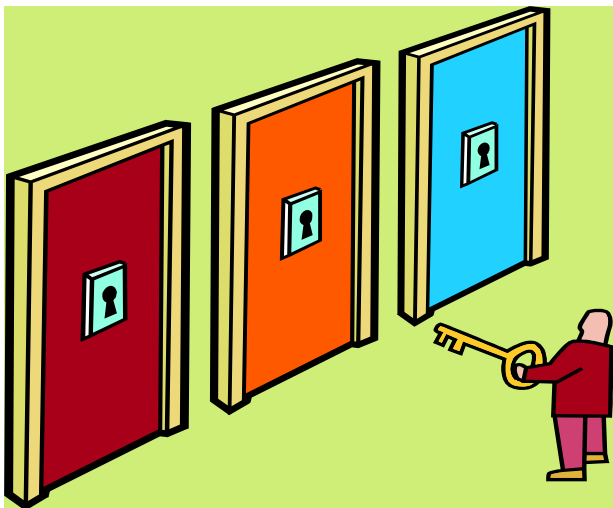

Sponsored by:
Stanislaus Partners In Education (SPIE)

Invite a Career Presenter into your classroom!

Expose students to career opportunities and help them gain a greater appreciation of the connection between classroom learning and the world of work.

Introduce/promote essential character, vocational and academic skills plus knowledge required by today's employers to prepare your students for a career.

Promote development of character, team building, problem solving, leadership and interpersonal skills, workplace ethics and volunteerism.

How Does It Work? Just follow the easy steps listed below.

Call any presenter listed at: www.stanislauspartners.com and make arrangements for he/she to present to your class.

1. Plan a pre-presenter lesson so the students will be prepared to listen and ask questions.
2. Be sure to send the presenter a reminder with your name and phone number, time, date, location and where to park.
3. CANCEL if plans change.
4. Plan a post-presenter debriefing with your students.
5. Follow up with a thank you note. The presenters really enjoy student thank you notes. What a great lesson for your students!
